Excerpt from A Historical Laboratory: How the Expert Historian Does His Work Professor James Henry Breasted, the Director of the New Institute, at Work in his Office on New and Unpublished Historical Documents The two stones on the card catalogue case in the middle are new Greek inscriptions. On their right are two tall pages of an unpublished medical treatise of the seventeenth century B.C. On the top of the roll-top desk are a replica of the famous bust of Ikhnaton and the standing statue, over four thousand years old, of an Egyptian chieftain. The large sheets lying on the desk are copies of the Coffin Texts, the religious documents explained within. These new monuments and records represent some of the original sources which the Oriental Institute of The University of Chicago is collecting and converting into the latest historical knowledge.
