Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 396 pages. Will anyone know we actually lived here in the UK or USA or Europe in 1000 years time Who remembers anything about the average citizen who lived in the UK 1000 years ago 1000 years ago was approximately the time of the Battle of Hastings, 1066, most schoolchildren and adults in the Western World know of this date. The unfortunate King Harold of England, who was an Anglo Saxon, fought Duke William, later King William 1st of Normandy on the bloody Hill of Senlac Wood near Battle in Sussex and sadly lost his life and his kingdom to the French speaking Norman conquerors . So, let us say that out of 100 people about 70 would know of this fact and know the names of King Harold and King William. There was a famous tapestry known as the Bayeux Tapestry which told the famous story of the battle on the tapestry , practically cartoon like, as the graphics of the 11th century were not very advanced, no photo shop, no desk top publishing in those days. However who has remembered the local free peasant farmers, such as Sigrid Beowulfsson of the small hamlet of Wychsea near Hastings. He had a pregnant wife to worry about, the price of corn had fallen again due to bumper crops that summer. Vikings had raided the coast the previous year and caused havoc with the foreign merchants who would now not be willing to buy his surplus corn at Hastings market. All these troubles were causing him lack of sleep and constant worry and were a big problem for him and his worried wife, Berta. No one remembers Sigrids problems because, firstly he was probably illiterate and couldnt read or write, only the village priest could read...
